CLARYVILLE — Frost Valley YMCA is hosting two Autism Family Support Weekends this year: March 24-26 and June 16-18. These fun and inclusive weekends provide families with the opportunity to meet others like them for friendship and support, while enjoying quality time in nature.

Nearly one in 68 U.S. children has been identified with autism spectrum disorder (ASD), according to estimates from the Center for Disease Control's Autism and Developmental Disabilities Monitoring Network. Because of this, it's important to ensure that families with a child or parent on the spectrum can enjoy quality time together within a supportive environment.

Given Frost Valley's commitment to inclusiveness, individuals with autism are always welcome to participate in weekend programs or summer camps, but this weekend is especially geared to support families, with the assurance that they are part of a community who embraces their differences. Guests experience a variety of activities, such as climbing, hiking, canoeing, crafts, sports, and more. Specially adapted programs also include sensory activities and games to engage guests who are on the spectrum and encourage children to develop relationships and build confidence while trying new things. In addition, group classes and gatherings allow family members to share advice, stories, and knowledge about autism in a way that is both social and educational.

Photos and interviews are available upon request. Please contact Director of Marketing and Communications Amanda Hinski at AHinski@FrostValley.org
